COVERS RICHEST GOLD AREA IN CALIFORNIA

Thinking Out Loud

By H. M. L.

This newspaper today presents the last words of many candidates to be uttered before their fate is decided at the polls next Tuesday. We have chosen our Friday issue for this purpose rather than Monday's issue because we believe it will give the county electors more time to think over the merits of the candidates before they vote.

We specially urge every registered voter to vote. Time was when this writer began to take an interest in politics (Republican politics) at the age of six, the man who failed to vote on Election Day, was regarded with the same favor as Benedict Arnold. However if a Democrat were by any chance laid up with lumbago, or other "misery" on that day, it was regarded as the hand of an allwise Providence intervening on behalf of the Republicans.

Regarding the election next Tuesday, not only should all registered voters go to the polls and vote, but they should vote for every candidate of their choice, WHETHER THERE IS A CONTEST FOR THE OFFICE OR NOT. Because, never a man held public office but did not make enemies. These enemies of one of the the unopposed candidates are preparing to writ-in the name of a man to oppose him on the November ballot. It is proposed legally to GANG UP on the unopposed candidate by writing in the name of a man who believed it futile to announce his candidacy in the usual and regular manner. Such a movement can only succeed when voters fail to vote for every candidate, of their choice, on the ballot, opposed or unopposed.

This method of writing in names of candidates, even if underhanded, is lawful. It is not the first time that it has been used in Nevada City in an attempt to defeat regularly nominated candidates for office. It is characteristic of the enemies of Nevada County to use this method. It therefore devolves upon every citizen who wishes to preserve this county as one spot on the map where law and order is preserved, to go to the polls and vote for candidates for office, whether their choice is opposed or not.

If you believe that F. D. Roosevelt is doing a good job as President of the United States, after the experience that this county has had with his National Labor Relations Board, then by all means, go to the polls and vote for Rubber-Stamp McAdoo, for Free-Mooney Olson, and Free-Mooney Patterson. The latter candidate for lieutenant governor, has been in Nevada County and openly, blatantly, espoused the cause of this county's enemies.

If you believe that we have had enough of "purging" for the time being, enough of reforms, enough of perpetual "emergencies," enough of taxes levied for social security and "borrowed" to pay the running expenses of the New Deal, let us vote for Phil Bancroft or Ray Wiley for Senator, for Representative Harry Englebright, who has served this district well, for Governor Frank Merriam, who has set his face against communism in California, and for either Jerry Seawell or Dr. Franklin for lieutenant governor. The only way we have to setting back the tide of radicalism in this country is to go to the polls and vote for candidates who are openly opposed to radicalism. If all the tax harassed of California will go to the polls, if the innocent "third parties" to outrageous and shamful assaults on government on state and national governments, made by Harry Bridges and other bell-mouthed labor racketeers, will vote their convictions at the polls next Tuesday, our California Bear can free himself of the vermin that are now sucking his life blood.

And don't think the battle is over next Tuesday. Locally the fate of candidates may all be decided Tuesday, or there may be one or two run-offs in November. Though these contests are important to the candidates, they fade into insignificance as compared with the major state and national contests and what these candidates represent. This is a continuing battle and will be for years to come, with crucial action next November and two years hence. The power to tax is the power to destroy, and engines of New Deal destruction are slowly grinding down the tax payers. The tax-eating army has been vastly recruited under the New Deal. Not only that, but there is a vast horde of camp followers, the WPA, and all those who have abandoned all other means of sustainance to seize the generous mess of pottage offered by New Deal. This marching army and horde will vote for permanent pap.

The only recourse the industrious ants of this great nation have against the onslaught of myriads of grasshoppers, is to go to the polls Tuesday and vote for those candidates who seem most likely to stand against the red tide.

DRIVE SAFELY PLEASE; SCHOOLS OPEN MONDAY

School bells calling multitudes of children back to their classrooms for the fall term also ring out a plea to motorists for safe driving near schools. Nevada City and Grass Valley schools open next Monday.

Throngs of children at crossings near schools before and after school hours place upon motorists an obligation to drive with special care in school zones, said the association. Also pointed out was the fact that many thousands of young children are making their way to and from school alone and having their first experience with traffic.

The statement cited the fact that state law limits speed to fifteen miles per hour when passing a school building or grounds during school recess or while children are going to or leaving school during opening or closing hours, or while playgrounds of any school are in use by school children.

Motorists were also urged to assist the School Safety Patrol in its work of safeguarding schoolmates from traffic dangers. Attention was drawn to the fact that members of the Patrol need the help of motorists in order to carry out their duty of directing the safe movement of children over crossings.

Patrol boys, it was emphasized, are trained to work from the curb and control the actions of children, not to attempt to direct traffic, but the success of their work depends upon the prompt readiness of motorists to yield the right of way when signalled by a Patrol boy to permit children to cross safely.

CITIZEN REFUTES ATTACK MADE ON COUNTY SHERIFF

Editor Nevada City Nugget,

Dear Sir:

The statement has been made that the Sheriff's office of Nevada County is indirectly responsible for the raise in taxes in this county. I, as a citizen and tax payer of this county, am taking this opportunity to deny and refute this statement. Let us at least be fair, and place the responsibility where it rightly belongs.

Had it not been for the radical element and the organization they represent, the Sheriff's office might have been spared the expense of handling a situation that threatened disaster to this community, loss of life and damage to property and wide unemployment.

The old age pension and welfare work are primarily responsible for the increase in taxation in Nevada County. The citizens and tax payers of this county owe a debt of gratitude to Sheriff Tobiassen for handling this situation in the capable manner, and in taking an impartial stand in protecting the lives of people of this county.

The only way the people of this county can show their gratitude for this great service is by returning Carl Tobiassen to the office of Sheriff of Nevada County by the largest majority in the county's history at the primary election next Tuesday.

(Signed)

OLNEY F. (OLLIE) DONNELLY.

MANY NEV. CITY STUDENTS GO TO JUNIOR COLLEGE

Wyman E. Olson, dean of the Auburn Junior College was at the National Hotel in Nevada City yesterday interviewing students who are preparing to go to the college this coming term, opening next Monday. Mr. Olson stated there were 25 students from Nevada county last year and he estimated there would be 45 this term.

A new bus has been purchased for the route and leaves the National Hotel in Nevada City at 7:15 each school day morning and picks up any student standing on the highway who is attending the college. The bus has a seating capacity of 49 pupils.

About 15 enrolled from Nevada City last year which was the first year and nearly all of them will return this term. In this group are Ray Wilde, Mervin Doolittle, Matt Burgen, Dick Tuttle, Bill Bishop, Mary Lou Draper, Dorothy Thomas, Jack Donnelley, Carl Tobiassen, Jr., Wesley Barry, all of Nevada City and Mary Joan Campbell of North Columbia.

Among those interviewed yesterday were Edna Uhrig, Catherine Saban, Marian Sharpe. W. Molthen, Richards.

Chief of Police Garfield Robson and wife are in Santa Cruz on their vacation. They have been down there a week and are enjoying the seacoast.

Fred F. Cassidy, manager of the local Alpha Hardware Store and wife, went to Alleghany early this week on account of the serious illness and death of Ray Hawkins.

Huge Blast at You Bet Injures Woman, Menaces Spectators

One and three quarters tons of black powder was set off in an island gravel reposit near Brown's Hill in the You Bet placer section shortly after noon yesterday which narrowly missed bringing death to two women who had come to witness the blast. Mrs. Croft whose husband is interested in the property received broken ribs and severe bruises from fragments of dry red clay that were blown 350 yards from the side of the hill. She was treated at the Jones Memorial hospital in Grass Valley.

The flying clods of hard red clay shot through a cabin, a garage and a shed and damaged the cars of several spectators. The huge blast which came from igniting 150 sacks, weighing 25 pounds each, of black powder, blew out the side of the hill as had been intended, but with unexpected force. A bank of red clay near the mouth of the tunnel was carried away in a mass of flying clods.

The tunnel had been built T-shaped and so loaded as to tear off one side of a hill of gravel, some of it cemented, that had not been sluiced by early or latter day placer miners using the giant monitors.

Perkins, Harp and Long, the firm now operating the placer mine had sampled this island left by their predecessors and found it extremely rich in gold.

There was a dull rumbling sound as the powder upheaved and the entire hill shook, rose a little and then subsided, but only after the unexpected force had torn through the red clay bank endangering the lives of a crowd of guests who thought themselves sufficiently distant to be safe. The hill will now be washed away to the surrounding level through sluice boxes.

GEORGE CALANAN TALKS TO ROTARY ON CITY WATER

George Calanan was guest speaker at the meeting of the Rotary club yesterday. He was introduced by Otis Brown, program chairman. The club voted to hold its annual picnic in Pioneers Park on September 8. All members of the Grass Valley Rotary were invited and members of both clubs are expected to bring their wives and women folk.

Mr. Calanan displayed drawings showing the proposed changes in Nevada City's two reservoirs which are expected to increase their capacities by 100 per cent. They were drawn by Edwin C. Uren, city engineer. This will be insurance, Mr. Calanan stated, against the hazards of water famine and fire, which the city long has needed. He cited several instances in both the early history of the city and in later days, one of them only five years ago, when winter storms and icy weather shut off the flow of water in the ditches and caused much apprehension among Nevada City residents, particularly among the firemen.

He then went on to discuss two proposals which the Rotary club had sponsored before the city council, one for treating the drinking water to eliminate danger of epidemic, and the other to provide for universal garbage disposal.

He stated that various and many groups, during his tenure of the office of city clerk, had appeared before the city council beseeching the expenditure of money, but that never in his long experience had any group come to the city council to tell them how they could save or gain more funds to meet all these requests. He said that government everywhere was constantly being asked to do more for the people in the way of services and providing material things, so that no matter how well disposed officials might be toward lowering the tax levies, they were unable to do so. On a national scale, he mentioned the veterans' bonus, vetoed by three presidents, and finally passed by a congress that voted for it solely because they wished to be re-elected to their offices, and regarded 2,000,000 votes as a big affirmative argument in favor of the bonus.

In conclusion he urged every man there to vote next Tuesday. He declared that all could thank God that they lived in the United States, California and Nevada City, that all citizens should value their democracy so highly that they would give to their ballots, thought and time, and go to the polls vote to keep this the greatest country on earth.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Joyal left yesterday at noon upon receipt of a telegram announcing the death of a brother of Mr. Joyal in Portland, Oregon.

L. S. WINCAPAW INVENTS SAFETY FUSE SPITTER

L. S. Wincapaw, mining engineer and metallurgist, gave a demonstration of his new invention, an electric safety fuse spitter, in Nevada City last evening. Mining men and engineers present pronounced the new invention a perfect method of setting off blasts. The invention is intended to protect men from premature blasts, "running fuses" and missed holes in this way saving many a life, while engaged in mining.

Mr. Wincapaw will go to Los Angeles to attend the Safety Conference which is being held from September 12 to 16 and will talk on his invention. He will also attend the Fourth Western Safety Conference in the Ambassador Hotel in Los Angeles from October 24 to 2 and again speak on his safety fuse spitter.

Patents are pending for the electric safety fuse spitter which touches off the complete "round" or battery of fuses at one second from a safe distance and virtually assures the complete firing of every hole. As many as 125 fuses have been fired with one turn of an electric switch, without one missing.

The new device has aroused the complete interest and endorsement of powder and fuse manufacturers, the Industrial Accident Commission and the United States Bureau of Mines. It apparently solves the problem of fuse blasting in the mining industry, a practice with attendant dangers that the accident commission, safety bureaus and organizations and mining leaders have been endeavoring to get away from for years In fact, it is becoming increasingly vital that some substitute for fuse blasting by the method of lighting through matches, torch or lamp be found.

Wincapaw's device consists of a fuse head, a square, triangular or oblong piece of insulation or nonconductor to which all fuses from loaded holes are entered, split and hung or contacted with a galvanized copper or iron wire, threaded about the fse head by non-conducting nails, cotter pins or other "posts". Electric wires are attached to any two terminals on the fuse head and with the application of electricity, the power, traveling along the conduit wire, ignites all fuses in a split second.

PROSPECT STREET SOON A BOULEVARD

Prospect street is at present under the care of Herbert Halett, street superintendent. The residents thereon are very happy about it as "Herb" is a good doctor. Treatment is rock, oil and roller and very soon the street will emerge, smooth, firm and non-skid.

Within the past few years many Nevada City resident streets have received like treatment and it has added much to the beauty of the city and the comfort of its residents.

RAY HAWKINS OF ALLEGHANY DEAD

The sudden death of Raymond Hawkins early yesterday morning at his home in Alleghany from pneumonia came as a great shock to his many relatives and friends in Nevada and Sierra counties, and cast a shadow of sorrow over the whole district, where he was so well known and universally liked. He was ill eight days and under an oxygen tent part of this time and if he could have survived two more days he would have passed the crisis and lived. Three doctors and two nurses worked over him, exhausting every resource in an effort to save his life.

He was 45 years of age and was born at the Allison Ranch west of Grass Valley. He attended the Grass Valley schools and grew to young manhood there later coming to Nevada City to work in the local Alpha hardware store. He went to Alleghany between 15 and 20 years ago to manage the Alpha's Branch store there and later purchased the business. He was also post master and considered the honorary mayor of the little city. With Fred Cassidy of Nevada City he took over the Oriental mine at Alleghany and operated it successfully for the past three years.

Ray Hawkins was a great sports lover and liked nothing better than to take his fine hunting dogs and a group of friends out on trips during the hunting seasons. His fine dogs helped to catch many mountain lions. He was greatly loved for many kindly acts to those in need.

Left to mourn his passing are a sister, Mrs. George Hallock whose husband is in charge of the 16-to-1 Extension Mine at Alleghany; two brothers, Walter P. Hawkins, dentist of Nevada City; Stephen Hawkins, mill man of Grass Valley; aunt Mrs. Carr, cousins, Percy and Robert Carr and Mrs. Fred Cassidy, all of Nevada City.

Holmes-Hooper Funeral Home in Grass Valley has charge of funeral arrangements, and at time of going to press date of the funeral had not been set.

MINE WORKERS WILL PARADE FOR CARL TOBIASSEN

Miners of Nevada City and Grass Valley will stage a big parade in the twin cities Sunday to demonstrate their support of Sheriff Carl J. Tobiassen whom they regard as having ably performed his duties during labor strife in this county. The parade will enter Grass Valley at 7:30 and then come to Nevada City to parade through the streets at 8:00 o'clock.

HELLINGS TAKEN TO TASK FOR AD ON CIO POSTERS

Arthur Hellings, candidate for the office of county clerk, was taken to task by officers of the Mine Workers Protective League last evening at the league meeting in the Strand Theatre building, because he had permitted his advertisement to appear on a huge placard heralding the big Labor Day CIO picnic and celebration to be held by that organization in Truckee. Hellings' advertisement was the only one of a county candidate appearing on the big poster. He has been a member of the Mine Workers Protective league for many years.

YOU BET PLACERS

Ross Croft has leased his gravel property in the You Bet district at Browns Hill to N. G. Perkins of Coloma. Perkins has five men employed. In old hydraulic operations tunnel was driven 1000 feet and then a raise made. Crews have covered a long flume on the property and are blasting down huge walls of gravel and it is understood gravel will be handled by steam shovel and sluicing.

Social Security Facts

How is the New Deal plan of Social Security faring after three years of operation? The answer is to be found in an analysis of the success of the Social Security Act by the American Association for Social Security, Inc., and in the United States Treasury daily statement.

The Treasury's statement of July 11, 1938, shows that up to June 30, 1938, the government of the United States had collected $708,751,980.56 in old age benefit payroll taxes. As of the same date $5,431,032.22 had been paid out to beneficiaries but, despite the enormous sum collected and the small sum paid out, the statement shows that in actual cash the government has but $2,243,012 left.

The accounting of the unemployment trust fund, set up by the same Act, shows that as of June 30, 1938, the states of the United States deposited $1,058,220,907 in the United States Treasury as their collections from the workers of the nation. Subsequently, the states withdrew $101,975,000 to pay unemployment claims. Again, despite the enormous deposit figure—state money, incidentally— and the relatively small disbursement figure, the statement shows that but $12,246,812 is the cash reserve.

It seems obvious that criticisms leveled at the reserve fund principle by Republicans are justified. Obviously, the government has appropriated to other purposes the major portion of the moneys collected from the payrolls of the nation originally intended for old age and unemployment security.

Theoretically, of course, the New Deal system of bookkeeping shows that a considerable amount of moneys lies in both the unemployment trust fund and the old age benefit fund. It is, however, in Treasury I. O. U.'s. It is as though a person with $10 to his name would spend the $10 and put an I. O. U. for $10 in his pocket and delude himself into thinking he still had $10.

In short, what many people feared—that the government would collect the money for old age security and spend it for something else—has indeed come to pass. The operation of the Social Security Act presents an equally disheartening picture.

In the words of the Social Security Association, "It may be well to recall that the aim and purpose of the Act was not to set up a new method of taxation, to create a new bureaucracy or to furnish jobs to tens of thousands of clerks, but to provide a greater measure of security for the American wage-earners and thereby to enhance the welfare of the nation as a whole. Its sole aim was to relieve the needs of the unemployed, the aged and other dependents.

The American Association for Social Security has an executive staff and board of directors whose interest in efficient operation of the Social Security Act cannot be questioned. Abraham Epstein, one of the nation's outstanding authorities on social security legislation, is executive secretary, and among the directors are John T. Flynn, Monsignor Francis J. Haas, Mary K. Simkhovitch, Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, and Arthur A. Ballantine, former Undersecretary of the Treasury.

A review of the Act published by the Association points out that since the employer contributions are generally included in the price of goods, "it means that for every dollar spent in old age insurance payments to increase the purchasing power of the workers, $197 of sorely needed purchasing power were withdrawn from it and spent for other purposes up to March, 1938." The Association points to a close relation between the present depression and the decline in mass purchasing power resulting from the unnecessary funds placed in future reserves. On another point, the Association says that during 1937 the national average of direct relief per person was $23.43, "or almost $8.00 per month more than the average unemployment insurance benefit."

"In view of these disclosures, is there any wonder that despite the unemployment insurance checks the relief rolls throughout the nation in the first quarter of 1938 increased, rather than decreased," the Association report said.

And in discussing the number of workers necessary to operate the Act, the Association said that it took one insurance employee to every 1,000 insured workers in the United States, or five times as many as it takes in Great Britain, bespeaking the cumbersome methods used by the Security Board.

In conclusion, although everyone is agreed that Social Security legislation is necessary, it would appear on a basis of the New Deal Administration's own Treasury statement that the handling of Social Security reserve funds has not been such as to instill confidence, and the operation of the Act, from a standpoint of efficiency, has been comparable to the bungling shown in all such New Deal efforts.—Contributed.

You Pay A Tax!

"Taxes," said a man the other day, "don't bother me much."

"Nor me," his companien replied. "I'm not in business. I don't own any property. And my income tax is small. I like to talk, but actually most taxes don't touch me."

Most taxes don't touch you!

Do you drive to work? Then on car, tires, battery, oil, and gasoline—YOU PAY A TAX! Do you ride the trains or trolleys? Then you pay a tax, for a slice of your fare goes to pay the government's bill.

Do you stay at home? The electric refrigerator, the long-distance phone calls, the radio, the evening's card game—on all—YOU PAY A TAX!

Do you plan to vote? Then watch the ballot, for many a proposition ought to shout in banner headlines—YOU PAY A TAX! There's the initiative that places the entire cost of government on land, proposals to burden the business man with new taxes, and the Garrison Bond Act that slashes legal checks on public borrowing and foreshadows mounting government costs in the future. Unwarranted inflation of the public debt can mean only one thing—YOU PAY A TAX!

Taxes don't touch you? From breakfast to bedtime they go with you. And if such proposals as the Garrison Bill become law, it's an even chance they'll stay with you through the night-mares of an unbalanced check-book. By then you'll be convinced—that whatever you do—YOU PAY A TAX. —Contributed.

Sound Mind, Sound Body!

The marching tread of 35,000 young Russians last week shook the cobbles of Moscow's Red Square. Recently, 40,000 young Czechs exerecised in unison as massed Sokol legions paraded in Prague's mammoth stadium. Today and tomorrow, 500,000 young Germans vie for athletic honors under the outstretched arm of their Fuehrer.

For suddenly a sound body has become of great importance in Europe. Men are needed, strong and hard, able to wallow in the mud of a trench and not perish, able to feel the slash of saber and shell, yet recover, able to know the sorrow and disaster of war, yet fight.

But there's more to youth than a sound body—muscle and sinew. What of a sound mind? In Vienna, short months ago, jeering youths tossed books into a fire, and sang as the twisting flames ate through the knowledge of centuries. In Moscow, young men and women daily roar for blood in a purge of their elders and leaders.

For suddenly a sound mind has become a crime in Europe, a crime to be expiated in a concentration camp or before a firing squad. Thinking has become an error, a fault to be condemned. Questioning has become a vice, a habit to be stifled.

A sound mind in a sound body! Through generations of young men and women, America has sought that ideal. An unsound mind in a body soon to be made unsound by the creeping death of the trenches. That, apparently, is the ideal of alien war lords. May America heed the warning!—Contributed.

THIS AND THAT

By ROY GRIFFITHS DEETER

Maybe we lean over backwards, but nevertheless, we still think that those darn bay bridges are beyond words beautiful, and that the sky line of San Francisco on a clear day beggars description! We keep running down there to see if perhaps the last time we were not a bit over enthusiastic, but it is the same old sensation every trip . . and usually more so. We cannot help but wonder if the people who live in the bay district, ever get used to the beauty of the bridges or if it effects them the way it does us . . and another thing, they have some big buildings that are indirectly lighted in such a way that it makes them look almost transparent. Honest its a fact, it is the most fantastic effect, and we love it, so there!

We hope you will all remember to go to the polls on Tuesday next. We think our local politics are going to be very interesting this year, and as every vote counts don't fail to use yours.

We strike a mournful note: Really we hate to bring this up, but pigs is pigs and facts is facts . . . and this particular fact is that the leaves have started to turn. It really makes us feel terrible, this sort of defiant warning that summer is on the wane —but there it is and what to do about it? We love the fall coloring, but gosh we like the summer best.

Fashion note: If you gals want to be right up and coming as far as your fall bonnet is concerned we'll tell you what to do. Take any old winter hat, just the first one you lay hands upon, grasp a pair of large scissors firmly in your right hand and cut away at least four-fifths of the hat, any old part, brim or crown it matters not! Then hunt around until you find one of grandma's old ostrich feathers, pick out the least moth eaten and the curliest, cut that in half, close your eyes tightly and pin it on, having done this you now have absolutely le dernier cri in lids, and what is more, you can either wear it reposing on the very backest edge of your cranium, or else tiltel forward 'til it completely obliterates one or both eyes, and if this does not appeal to you, you can still be terrifically in style by just wearing it as an ear muff. Don't tell us we don't give you the latest in a flash.

And with this, we say to you all, cheerio!

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Johnson and nieces, Misses Betty and Lois Held, who have spent several weeks at Alleghany vacationing returned home Wednesday. The young ladies will re-enter high school for the coming term.

THURMAN KNOWS DISTRICT, ABOVE & UNDERGROUND

Probably no other calling is dominated by more curiosity than that which characterizes the newspaper profession. And the boys who get the news are always suggesting remedies for what's wrong with the world.

For this reason newspapermen not only sway a rod of power through their papers, but they make ideal legislators.

Allen G. Thurman of Colfax is a candidate for the assembly from the sixth district and is ideally qualified for the job. Not only has his insatiable curiosity made him thoroughly acquainted with every county in his vast district (the Sixth Assembly District takes in almost a sixth of the area of the entire state), but his irrepressible energy makes him take a leading part in doing things for that district.

To see "Scoop" Thurman in action is to see a human dynamo at work. During the more than 20 years he has lived among us he has been identified with practically every forward movement during that time. Sports, mining, civic improvements, farming, fruit raising, grazing, winter sports, roads and all the other activities have found in him an ardent advocate both in and out of organizatinns as well as through his newspaper.

His stand on every subject of interest to his district has been put down in black and white. His sympathy both to the employed and the employer makes him an ideal representative of both of these factors of our economic controversies. He will make a strong appeal to voters of all schools of thought, because he is fair and will decide without prejudice the course to be taken in legislation.

Because he believes that an essemblyman should be non-partisan, he is running on both the Democratic and Republican tickets and he is sure to cast a very large vote on both.

WARD SHELDON

DISTRICT ATTORNEY

Primary Election: Aug. 30

NINE SOUTHERN COUNTIES LINE UP FOR MERRIAM

SAN FRANCISCO, August 25.—"Governor Merriam will carry all of the nine Southern California counties at the August 30 primary election!

This was the statement today of Bradford M. Melvin, director of the campaign in northern California, made after a long distance consultation with E. V. Latham, in charge of the Merriam interests in the south.

Mr. Latham advises me that he has just competed a personal survey in the south during which he visited all the nine counties south of the Tehachapi, said Mr. Melvin. "He had the opportunity on this trip of meeting and talking to men and women in all walks of life.

"Polls which have been taken as carefully as possible further support the statement that the governor will receive a tremendous southern California vote. His visit in the south has substantially increased his already great personal popularity, and from what Mr. Latham tells me, I would not be at all surprised if he comes to the Techahapi with a majority of 100,000 or more.

"Men and women appreciate the good government they enjoy through the functioning of Governor Merriam's policies. They are aroused by the realization that good government is menaced in the possibilities of this primary election. They realize that to keep good government in Uovember a huge vote must be polled for Governor Merriam on August 30th."

HARRY B. RILEY FOR CONTROLLER GIVEN SUPPORT

Volunteers from every walk of life have rallied to the support of State Controller Harry B. Riley who is seeking to be retained as chief fiscal officer of the state, said Chas. A. Shurtleff beloved ex-Supreme Court Justice of California, in San Francisco, as the primary election draws near.

"Mr. Riley's long and honorable career as a public servant has brought to his campaign leading bankers, insurance men, real estate heads, civic leaders, labor people, farmers, mechanics, small business men, professional leaders and representatives from almost every type of endeavor," continued Justice Shurtleff.

The duties of the state controller's office require a man with executive ability and experience. Mr. Riley collects the gasoline, transportation license, insurance, petroleum and beverage taxes. He administers the inheritance tax, collecting taxes aggregating $60,000,000 a fiscal year.

The controller is also a statistician, gathering data regarding state, county, municipal and district indebtedness, tax rates and many other facts.

MY RECORD

At this time as at no other time in the history of our country will seasoned law enforcement agencies be needed to expose and repel those forces which, hiding behind a camouflage of variously named patriotic, peace and good will organizations, have set about to destroy our democratic constitutional government.

In seeking the continued support of the voters of this county of my incumbency as District Attorney. I offer the record of the accomplishments of this office in public service of the past four years, during which time the many duties of the office have been discharged to the credit of the office, and the stability and favorable reputation of Nevada County.

Changed conditions developing during the past five years both in Nevada County and throughout the entire country have placed a greater burden on the District Attorney's office in maintaining law and order. Criminal prosecutions have been many and successfully handled. Seven Bond issues coupled with P. W. A. grants have required the close scrutiny of this office as to every detail to secure their satisfactory culmination.

The labor situation found the District Attorney's office holding firmly to its oath emphasizing reason and judgment in order that the forces for stability and law enforcement might emerge in the clear on all counts.

Throughout my incumbency my best efforts have been given to keep the office free from fear or favor, insuring the fairness and equality that is the basis of our constitution. Those who have infringed on the rights of others have been fairly tried and punished.

In asking your support to be retained in office, I promise that the office will continue to be used without fear or favor for the suppression of crime and violence and dictator tendencies.

The office will continue to insure the peaceful progress of law-abiding citizens toward a fuller realization of American principles.

(Signed) VERNON STOLL.

TO VOTERS OF NEVADA COUNTY

The large volume of work, consisting of preparing for the August Primary Election, which it is my duty as County Clerk to take care of; and in addition, the preparation of the annual expenditure program, or budget, of the county for the fiscal year 1938-39, which amounts this year to $931,217 which is also my duty as County Auditor to do—all of which must be done within the month of July and August under the statutes, has made it, much to my regret, impossible to interview each voter individually.

Our office is a busy one during these two months and the office force has worked day and night that the budget can be adopted by the Board of Supervisors and the tax rate fixed by them before September 1st.

Must Prepare Election

Added to this is the vast volume of work in preparing for the election—seggregating more than 10,000 registration affidavits, preparing copy for the precinct registers, getting it into the hands of the printer, preparing notices of election for publication, mailing sample ballots and having everything ready for the opening of the polls on Primary election day, August 30th.

In the Auditor's office, is the accounting system of the county, requiring an accurate check of the receipts and distribution of all county monies. It is the heart of the county's finances, and I can assure you that the experience I acquired as deputy in this office for 24 years stood me well in hand when I was elected as principal eight years ago.

Payments of old age security, orphan aid and aid to the blind are made through the auditor's office and are accounted for by me, to the state and federal government.

Experience Essential

The multiple duties of the office require that the principal should know every working detail of the office of County Clerk as well as County Auditor, and this can be acquired only by experience.

That I have served faithfully, honestly and efficiently in this office both as a deputy and as principal, is borne out by the reports of the expert accountants appointed by the Grand Jury, in the last of which the following comment was made by the expert:

"The books and accounts of the clerk and auditor were found as heretofore, to be in excellent condition and well kept."

Upon my record in this office I am asking for your support at the election next Tuesday.

R. N. McCORMACK,
County Clerk and Auditor of Nevada County.

James Dolan, who underwent severe surgery in San Francisco several weeks ago, and wife returned to their home in Nevada City Tuesday evening. Many were ther to greet them and have been calling steadily to find out how their friend, "Jim" is getting along.

Mrs. Gertrude Botting and daughter and son in law, Mr. and Mrs. Al Vierra motored up from Stockton Monday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Louise Barnes in Grass Valley. Mrs. Barnes and Mrs. Botting were both formerly of Sierra City. Mrs. Botting and party came to Nevada City and visited for a short time with former friends.

Eight Years Prior Experience

Qualified — Impartial — Considerate

TO THE VOTERS OF NEVADA COUNTY

One of the most important offices to be filled by the electors of this County at the Primary Election on Tuesday is that of District Attorney of Nevada County. I am a candidate for this office and the platform I have to offer is very simple and straightforward.

A practical legal knowledge, the ability to exeercise sound and unhesitating judgment at all times, and good common sense, are, in my opinion, the indispensible prerequisites to the office if it is to be conducted with the greatest efficiency and economy.

Upon my admission to the Bar of the State of California six years ago I became associated in the practice of law in this county with the late E. H. Armstrong, one of the keenest minds this community has ever had in the field of criminal law. The experience I acquired during this association is invaluable.

In addition to my private practice, I now hold the position of City Attorney of the city of Grass Valley. As such I have always endeavored to perform my duties with impartiality, economy and efficiency, and all the officials have at all times given the fullest cooperation of my office.

I believe in the equal administration of justice. I believe in fair play and in giving courteous service at all times. I am a confirmed believer in all American principles of government and I hate radicalism in all its disguises.

Having been raised in this county, with my home in Grass Valley for the past twenty five years, I have the best interests of the community at heart, and where private interests conflict with this, all other things being equal, the latter must give way. Such has been the policy of my office as City Attorney. Such will be the policy of the office of District Attorney if I am elected.

Very sincerely yours,

WM. J. CASSETTARI.

NEW CLASSES NEW TEACHERS AT HIGH SCHOOL

Registration began at Nevada City high school Wednesday morning under the direction of Mrs. Flewellen, who is vice-principal of the high school, and Mr. Kjorlie who is district superintendent.

Several new classes have been added to last year's curriculum. Esther Tremaine Joyal will teach a class of advanced mathematics which will help students who are preparing for business as well as those who plan to go to college.

Mrs. Marian Libbey will teach a mixed chorus in addition to her regular boys' and girls' choruses.

There are three new teachers on the staff this year. Miss Swertsen will teach the home economics classes. Mr. Martin will have charge of boys' physical education and world history. Mr. Smith will be music instructor. In addition to band and orchestra and music I, he will teach sophomore English.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES
By JEAN MARTZ

The Nevada City high school district has voted bonds to pay for the improvement of the high school. Among the projects planned is the building of a stage onto the gymnasium. There will be dressing rooms on the stage level. The class of '39 hopes to be able to present its "senior farce" in its own school. The addition of the stage will promote interest in dramatics throughout the school.

Plans have been made to build a shop under the stage and a gymnasium. This will add much to the school and give the students more advantages.

The halls in the high school have been covered with heavy "battleship" linoleum. This covering tends to deaden the sound of footsteps, and will make it easier for the students to study.

Phil Joyal, Tod Bonner, Bud King and Tom Rickard left this week for a short vacation on Tod Lake in the high Sierra Nevada mountains.

Penrose and Son have remodeled their fruit stand in the display window of their store on Broad street until it attracts much attention with its neat and attractive displays of rich colored autumn fruits. Noted yesterday were grape fruit, oranges, peaches, allegator pears, melons, lemons and figs, giving a purple and gold effect.

ARTHUR HELLINGS OUTLINES PLATFORM OF CANDIDACY

Arthur F. Hellings, candidate for election to the office of County Clerk and Auditor of Nevada County, has been working long hours daily for several weeks in contacting the voting public and outlining the platform he has adopted to be effected in the event of his election.

"Art" Hellings has been a resident of Grass Valley for the past thirty-one years. He has been employed in the local mines for the past twenty-five years, and is widely known to the population of the county, and with those whom he may be unable to meet personally before election day he takes this means of announcing his platform.

Excellent experience in county government practice was secured by candidate Hellings through his four year service to the county as Deputy Sheriff. These four years prompted Mr. Hellings to make a thorough and extensive study of county offices, particularly that of County Clerk and Auditor. His studies in this field were not limited to Nevada County, but to other counties in the state of California and elsewhere, where new improvements and methods have proved effective in savings to the taxpayers. These adaptable principles have been assimilated by Mr. Hellings for use, in the event of his election, to the Nevada County Clerk's office. Their practical interpretation, he believes, will be a genuine asset in establishing economy, efficiency and definitely modernized money-saving methods.

"In an era of taxation," Mr. Hellings declared, "I believe that the office of County Clerk and Auditor may be operated in a manner that will stretch the taxpayer's dollar, instead of shrinking it. My first consideration would be fulmillment of the trust placed in me for execution of the duties; second, the capable maintenance of affairs of a growing county; and third, 'straight-from-the- shoulder' execution of duties, with inspection by the public welcomed at any time."

FACTS NOT FANCIES

A DOCTOR FOR A DOCTOR'S JOB

For the Office of Coroner, as well as in other departments, the budget is allowed and approved by the Board of Supervisors and all must stay within their allowance. It IS NOT ILLEGAL for a Doctor to be Coroner or do autopsies.

Doctors called in by a lay coroner to do autopsies are paid out of this fund, regardless of claims made of "no extra expense to the taxpayers." Read the County Budget Report for verification of expenses.

Chemical analysis and diagnosis of diseased tissues to determine causes of death have been paid for out of county funds, ranging from $25 to $50 per test when lay coroners send these specimens to cities outside the county for reports. Not being equipped nor trained for such work, it is the best they can do and the price must be paid.

The burial of the indigent is paid for out of funds extra alloted for that purpose. This work will still be given to morticians interested in that business, but this phase of the work should be separated from the Coroner's office.

The Doctor who is running for Coroner is equipped to handle all cases here in our own County with a saving to the taxpayer, as he himself has had special training in post-mortem examinations at Rush Medical College and can do all the work required for this office. Chemical analysis and diagnosis of diseased tissues can be made in his own laboratory thoroughly equipped with the Receiving Hospital.

We will have in addition our own ambulance to serve the County. Our apparatus for finger printing, photography, moving pictures, and stereoptican lantern projection are all extra assets which can be used for the Officials in medical-legal cases at no extra expense.

My motive for running for Coroner is to serve this county Efficiently, Economically, and Progressively. A monthly report of expenses and activities of this office will be given to the Public. Past service to the Community should serve as proof of my sincerity and purpose.

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENTS

DIST. ATTOREY'S OFFICE VITAL TO ALL IN COUNTY

On next Tuesday, the voters of Nevada County will be called upon to declare their choice of candidates for the office of District Attorney. There is no position of greater importance in county affairs and none which affects all of the people more directly. The District Attorney not only has the final word in the handling of all criminal cases but he is also charged with a heavy responsibility as the legal counselor to the county officials in civil matters. If the office is properly administered, crime will be suppressed by a sure and efficient prosecution of offenders and economies of operation will be passed on to the taxpayers The voters are entitled to know something of the qualifications of the candidates before casting their ballots and as it has been impossible to contact all of the electorate, I am using this means of setting forth my views and abilities.

In offering my candidacy to the voters, I have no apologies to make. I believe that I am thoroughly fitted through training and experience to undertake and efficiently perform all of the duties of the office. I have spent seven years in universities and law college preparing for my profession and before coming to Nevada County served an apprenticeship of some years in law offices in the larger California cities. I was born and have been raised and educated in the mining districts of the country so feel that I can bring to the office of District Attorney an understanding of local problems as well as a thorough preparation for the position.

If elected to this office, it will be my aim to carry on the work with economy and dispatch. This means with a full cooperation with the sheriff's office and with the city and state police. It means a thorough investigation and preparation of all cases before they are presented. It means an aggressive prosecution of offenders where such action is indicated and it means an intelligent consideration of those cases where the offender may be rehabilitated through corrective measures.

If elected, I will be able to carry out the duties of the office without favor or discrimination. I have no political promises or obligations to fulfill. I am not allied with any other group or candidate and can administer the office free of any outside interference. On this basis, solicit your support.

Sincerely,
WARD SHELDON.

Miss Helen Arbogast is enjoying a visit in Modesto with friends. She will return in time to start teaching in the Meridian school September twelfth.

C. E. Circle, Henry Yuen and Jim Vassion are still in jail.

Three Hostesses Give Garden Party Luncheon

Mrs. C. E. Parsons, Mrs. George Legg and Mrs. Robert Nye were hostesses Tuesday to a large group of friends at a bridge luncheon. The guests assembled at the Legg home at one o'clock when a delightful luncheon was served, the guests seated at large tables centered with summer flowers. After the luncheon bridge was enjoyed in the C. E. Parsons gardens, the tables placed in shady spots among the flowers, trees and shrubs. It was a most beautiful setting and a perfect day. Gifts for high scores were received by Mrs. Kidder of Grass Valley, Mrs. Gordon Bettles, Mrs. Belnap Goldsmith, Mrs. Mary Warnecke, and Mrs. Geo. Jones.

Young Lacy Jones has returned to his studies at University of California. He is in his second year studying to be an electric engineer.

ALLEGED TRESPASSERS FREED ON RECOGNIZANCE

Three men, John Pettitt, John Wheeler and Everett Tibbetts arrested Thursday, August 11 for trespassing on patented land were held in lieu of $250 bail. They were released early this week on their own recognizance and permitted to leave the county jail. Their case was set for trial before Judge W. L. Mobley September first in the local justice court. The men allegedly trespassed on mining ground patented to Coughlan Brothers at Columbia Hill. The three men have families.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allen of Boulder street, who have spent three weeks in San Francisco, returned home Wednesday evening. Mr. Allen has been in French's hospital and will not return to work for a time or until he feels better.

While nothing would have given me greater pleasure than to call upon you personally in the intorest of my re-election to the office of Justice of the Peace at the Primary Election on Tuesday, August 30, my physical inability has not permitted me to perform the strenuous task of making house to house calls.

In seeking return to the office of Justice of the Peace of Nevada Township, I would state that, during the ten years (two years by appointment and eight years through election and re-election) I have striven to fulfill the duties of the office to the best of my ability. I believe that my experience is an outstanding factor in rendering just and fair decisions in the lower court and in executing the unlimited detailed matter which require careful, conscientious thought and unbiased judgment. The office of Justice of the Peace entails an insight into the law and court procedure which I have studied extensively during my ten years in office.

In the belief that a man's best recommendation to office is the manner in which he has fulfilled his duties in the past, I respectfully solicit your support when you go to the polls on Tuesday, August 30.

Yours very truly,

JULY GAS TAXES TOTAL $4,548,146

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 25.—Distribution of gasoline continued at approximately the same level during July, it was reported today by the State Board of Equalization.

According to figures released by the board, the July sales amounted to 151,604,895 gallons nn which a tax of $4,548,146.85 was collected. This represented a loss of .612 per cent as compared with the tax of $4,576,163.57 assessed during the same month of the previous year.

The total tax income for the month also was slightly under that for June, 1938, when $4,644,337.01 was reported.

The July income from the gasoline tax brought the total for the first seven months of the calendar year up to $29,546,000.07.

Oil companies reporting sales of more than 300,000 gallons in July were listed by the board with the explanation that resale of gasoline previously taxed and exempt sales to the federal government or in interstate commerce accounted for the differences between total sales and taxable sales.

THREE COMRADES AT THEATRE SUN. AND MON.

Adapted from Erich Maria Remarque's best seller novel or European post war chaos, "Three Comrades," which will be shown at the Nevada Theatre Sunday, presents Robert Taylor, Margaret Sullavan, Franchot Tone and Robert Young in one of the most touching love stories to reach the screen.

Although the Remarque story is placed against a background of the turbulent days succeeding the world conflict in Europe, it is primarily the drama of the devout love between a man and a woman. Taylor brings an increased acting power to his role of Erich, youngest of the three comrades, who returns from the front embittered and disilusioned to find new hope in his love for Patricia, stirringly enacted by Miss Sullivan.

Tone has his best part in years as Koster, who sacrifices his one love, a racing car, in order to raise the funds for Patricia's operation. Robert Young also scores in a memorable part as Lenz, the comrade who becomes embroiled in a political demonstration and is killed.

The picture faithfully follows the narrative of the novel, intermingling its moods of laughter and tears and rising to a brilliant and heartrending climax with Miss Sullavan's closing speech—"It's right for me to die, darling, when I'm so full of love."

Incidentally, "Three Comrades" disproves the thtory of those who believe Robert Taylor cannot be "mussed up" for in the realistic street fighting scenes, he throws his fists like a ring veteran and frequently stops terrific jolts with his chin.

MINE PERSONALS

H. Lunt has three men engaged in pumping out an old shaft on his property in the Canada Hill district. This property is southeast of Nevada City and is between the Kistle and Murchie properties.

Two men have a lease on the Birchville property in the Graniteville district and are taking out ore.

Four men are employed under Mr. Quimby sampling the Red Ledge mine at Washington. Considerable development has been done by the owners.

Four men are taking out ore at the Giant King mine at Washington. This property has been tied up with litigation for some time.

Surveyors are doing considerable work around Columbia Hill. It is thought this work will later be used in connection with hydraulic operations when the Narrows Dam is completed.

STATE FAIR TO OPEN ON SEPT. 2

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 25. — The 84th annual 10-day fiesta has been proclaimed "California State Fair and Exposition Period" by Governor Frank F. Merriam who cordially invites Californians and Westerners to set aside the days of September 2 through 11 for their vacation and visit the exposition.

The governor emphasized that, "The California State Fair and Exposition is a great agricultural and industrial exposition, which serves as a dramatic symbol of the continued progress and achievement of the six million people in California."

Presenting a cross section of agriculture, livestock, industry, education and entertainment, all past attendance records are expected to be shattered during the ten day showing, Secretary Manager Robert Muckler predicts.

Among attractions of the 1938 State Fair are new lighting displays. Redesigned county exhibits. The finest fruit and crops in the world. Livestock from a dozen states and foreign countries. A farm machinery show valued at $3,000,000. An educational display representing all California. Horse racing for $50,000 purses. The premier Horse Show of California. An outdoor night revue produced at a cost of $35,000. The noted State Fair fireworks display.

These features, combining with a $1,000,000 new major building and permanent improvement program, special days and a match pony express race from Carson City, Nev., to the Fair, will make the California State Fair the mecca of hundreds of thousands this year.

Miss Alta Rowe of Sacramento is a house guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Parsons of the Gillette Nurseries in this city.

FARM WORKERS BETTER OFF THAN ANYWHERE ELSE

By RALPH H. TAYLOR

In view of repeated charges by CIO organizers, pro-labor urban newspapers and certain government officials that California farm wages and farm housing accomodations are "a disgrace to the state," it is to be hoped that a recent article released by Employment Service News, official publication of the United States Employment Service, will be given wide circulation.

Written by W. V. Allen, supervisor of the Farm Placement Service for the federal employment agency, the article discusses California's migratory labor problem thoroughly and intelligently. And in summary it makes this unequivocal statement:

"Despite reports to the contrary, agriculture in California has been kind to its workers. It pays the highest wage of any agricultural state in the nation. In most cases, it furnishes very good housing facilities to its migratory workers."

Then, digging into the present problem, resulting from the flood of refugees pouring into this state from other areas, the report observes:

"We believe that California farmers generally wish to maintain their high wage scale, but unless and until this wholesale migration of indigent workers to the state stops, with its attendant ramifications in the spreading of disease and the resultant burden of possible increased taxation upon our growers to care for these people, fair agricultural wages cannot prevail."

And then, spiking the oft-reiterated charge that California agriculture prompted the invasion of migrants by advertising for workers in the Middle-West and other sections, the federal official reports:

"California farmers have been blamed unjustifiably for the unprecedented influx of agricultural workers to the state during the past few years. It has been alleged that growers in certain areas of California have advertised for labor in the Dust Bowl area. But at the instigation of the Farm Placement Service in California, thorough investigation of these statements has been made. Directors of State Employment Services in the Middle West, in their desire to give us complete cooperation, have had newspapers throughout their states searched for such ads, but to date not even one advertisement of that nature has been found. We believe responsibility for the influx lies not with our growers, but with individual farm laborers who, as we have pointed out, have come here from other states and, having been able to maintain themselves, have written to friends and relatives at home, exaggerating the ease with which they have found work or have secured relief, to the end that their friends and relatives will join them here."

Tracing the start of "the new gold rush" to California, the federal official relates:

"In 1935, farm workers in ever-increasing numbers invaded California. They came from all sections of the United States, but principally from the so-called drought states. They were attracted to California by the higher farm wages paid in this state; by better living conditions and housing accomodations furnished by growers; by the fact that California's agriculture is a year-'round activity; by the more liberal relief policies of the California State Relief Administration and by the higher security wage paid by the Works Progress Administration in this state.

"In 1936, according to the reports from Border Quarantine Stations, 97,642 people entered California by automobile in search of manual employment. Many were experienced egricultural workers. In 1937, some 104,976 people entered the state. Again a majority were from the drought area"

Then, pointing the problem, Mr. Allen notes: "These out of state people, destitute and desperate for work, were on hand when agricultural jobs were available, and were willing to work for less than the going wage. The result again was that many of California's own agricultural workers were obliged to seek public relief. The prospect for the balance of 1938 is not bright." And pointing the danger of boosting California's old age pension payments to too-attractive levels, he observes: "Out of state people have been quick to recognize the advantages to be had as residents of the state in the old age benefits paid in California. It appears now that it is their desire to have their relatives and close friends established in California so as to be eligible for these benefits. Many of them have been here for the past three to five years and, having established residence, have fared better than they would have at home. Now, happy in their present conditions, they fail to see that the employment situation becomes increasingly acute and that their relatives and friends at home, in all probability, would not find employment so readily, should they, too, migrate to California."

There is much food for thought in this analysis released by the United States Employment Service. But there is little ammunition for the critics of California agriculture. Fortunately, the Farm Placement Service has undertaken the job of warning the people in other sections of the United States not to come to California in search of employment. It is to be hoped that their work will be successful and that other federal agencies will assist them.

Helen—"You'll never catch me going out to dinner with an editor again."

Mary—"Why? Was he broke?"

Helen—"I don't know whether he was broke or not, but he put a blue pencil through about half of my order."

Says a postcard from a truth-telling vacationist at an expensive mountain resort: "Having a wonderful time; wish I could afford it."

Football Time!

Crashing its way into the headlines once again comes football, king of autumn sports. Local interest in the game will reach a peak during the next few weeks. Pictured here is Capt. Joe Kilgrow of last year's Alabama championship team, who was picked on several all-American teams.

NECK VERTEBRA BROKEN

Earl Chatfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Chatfield while on night shift in the Flume House mine at Mokelumne Hill Thursday night, was caught in a fall of rock and suffered a broken vertebra in his neck. He was rushed to a hospital and his neck placed in a cast and then was brought to his home in Nevada City during the past week end. It will be fully three months before he will be able to return to work. The accident occurred on the 300 foot level in the mine, his partner escaping uninjured. C. N. Chatfield is in charge of the property.

Mrs. Irene Spencer and son, Sherman, came down from Alleghany Tuesday and are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Carl Johnson. Sherman will remain to enroll in the Nevada City high school.

TO VOTERS OF NEVADA COUNTY

I am availing myself of this opportunity to set forth briefly to you, the voters of Nevada County, my plan for giving a good administration of the office of County Superintendent of Schools, and my qualifications for the office They follow:

The rural schools should receive the same consideration and careful attention that the schools in the cities receive. The education of children is as important in one school as another.

It is the duty of the county School Superintendent to aid boards of school trustees, whenever he is called upon, to solve and meet their problems in securing up-to-date equipment and in introducing modern methods of instruction in so far as local conditions warrant. Often administrative problems confront school boards in which an experienced educator can render effective help. It goes without saying that the office of County School Superintendent should be honestly and efficiently conducted.

Regarding my qualifications, I have been teacher and principal in the Nevada City elementary school for thirteen years. In that time many problems of administering the affairs of the school, were at one time or another, presented to me and solved in the best interests of the school. Prior to that experience I received a thorough training in the Humbolt State College for both administrative and teaching duties.

On the strength of these qualifications I respectfully ask your endorsement of my candidacy at the polls next Tuesday.

Sincerely yours

WALTER A. CARLSON.

PHELPS AND LAIRD THANK SUPPORTERS

NOTE: The editor of this newspaper as a matter of course accords anyone who considers that he has been attacked in these columns the right to answer in the following or later issues. Pursuant to this policy there appears today the replies of Walter J. Phelps, candidate for sheriff, and Arleigh Laird, candidate for superintendent of schools, to the statement that the CIO were apparently unanimously supporting their candidacies. Both replies are printed verbatim as submitted to this office. Even the mis-spelled words of the candidate for county superintendent are reproduced.—H. M. L.

STATEMENT OF ARLEIGH LAIRD

It has been called to my attention that I have the support of several organizations in my campaign for Superintendant of Schools of Nevada County. My kindest appreciation goes out to any person or organization supporting me on the basis of my work and aims.

The public school sustem of the United States is based on the broad precept that every child is entitled to an eduacation. Today many private and parochial schools are worthily accomplishing this same purpose.

I am in complete agreement with the principal of eduacation for every child so that each child may be prepared to take up the duties of a good citizen of the United States.

This becomes even more important when we realize that the future of our nation depends entirely upon the ability of our future citizens to think and act clearly and constructively.

I pledge myself to support that principal and will appreciate the support of any person or organization helping to accomplish that aim.

(Signed) ARLEIGH LAIRD.

VOTERS, ATTENTION!

In justice to myself and to the voters of Nevada County I desire to make the following statement regarding an editorial printed in the Nevada City Nugget on Monday, August 22, 1938:

The above-mentioned editorial contained the assertion that Walter J. Phelps was receiving the unanimous support of the CIO affiliate in his candidacy for office at the coming primary election. The editorial attempted to give the impression that I was the officially sponsored candidate of the CIO organization.

My reply to that insinuation is that, being a candidate for public office, I have no control over anyone desiring to vote for me and I cannot and would not desire to restrict my campaign to any one particular group or element of voters. I have solicited the support of every qualified voter of Nevada County and I feel highly pleased to be able to state that I am considered worthy enough to obtain the support of many different groups of citizens who are interested only in the welfare of their county.

Again I say I solicit the support of every voter and every organization in Nevada County, regardless of their religious faith, political or labor affiliation.

(Signed) WALTER J. PHELPS.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Pierce of Alleghany were business visitors in Nevada City Tuesday.
